EU PROTECTED PERSONS COURSE (EUPPC)

1. This document outlines the core content and scope of training offered by the Institute for European Intelligence and Security on the aforementioned course, together with any other relevant information not included elsewhere.

Aim

2. This handbook aims to provide the following types of information:
 - a. Specific Institute education and training doctrine relating to the course.
 - b. Training and readiness exercises associated with the course.
 - c. Supplementary and optional training offered as a part of the course.
 - d. Any other pertinent information not presented elsewhere.

Glossary

3. The list that follows is an exhaustive list of abbreviations used throughout this document:

IEIS	Institute for European Intelligence & Security
EU	European Union
EUIOC	EU Intelligence Operations Course
EUIAC	EU Intelligence Analysis Course
EUIMC	EU Intelligence Management Course
EUPPC	EU Protected Persons Course
ECIM	European Criminal Intelligence Model
FTX	Field Training Exercise
EQF	European Qualification Framework
MCPE	Multiple Choice Practical Examination
TSCM	Technical Surveillance Countermeasures
ICF	Integrated Competency Framework

Introduction

4. Welcome to the EUPPC. The course provides candidates with the skills and knowledge required to perform relocation and protection duties within an international intelligence environment over an intensive residential programme coupled with preparatory e-learning. The entire development experience is focused on witness protection principles from an intelligence perspective against complex state-level threats.
5. The course adopts small teaching groups to personalise the learning experience. The self-directed learning approach with evaluation and development through experiential learning places a heavy burden on participants. The course is goal-oriented in line with contemporary adult-learning principles and develops useful, applicable and fundamental operational skills in an intensive but respectful environment.
6. Throughout the course participants will be required to complete individual and group assignments, working effectively in isolation and learning to leverage the knowledge and resources of an entire team to engage complex scenarios.
7. The directing staff set the conditions for learning, provide a safe environment, deliver rich content and facilitate learning by discovery, all whilst ensuring secrecy and security measures are adhered to.

8. It is the desired outcome of the programme for graduates to positively impact their organisations and the world at large through the application of new and enhanced individual and collective capabilities. Their skills and knowledge should serve them in developing understanding and supporting operations planning to ensure the security of Europe and its interests across the globe.
9. Admissions. The course applies additional pre-requisite criteria beyond that required for admission to Institute courses in general. Candidates are reminded that those who have not studied with the Intelligence Academy before must complete the Intelligence Foundations selection and induction course. Also, candidates using the Institute to obtain a security clearance for the first time must also complete the Intelligence Security awareness course. Candidates who have already successfully completed either of these online will not be asked to re-take them.
10. Candidates must also have existing training and professional experience in:
 - Intelligence operations equivalent to participation in the Institute's EUIOC or similar programmes; or
 - Intelligence analysis equivalent to participation in the Institute's EUAC or similar programmes; or
 - Intelligence command equivalent to participation in the Institute's EUIMC or similar programmes.
11. Security Vetting. The course has a number of additional enhanced security requirements, amongst which is that all candidates fulfil the minimum requirements for a RESTRICTED level security clearance or higher. The Institute can initiate the vetting process for candidates who lack a recognised clearance or the means to acquire one. However, such vetting can take up to 6 months to complete and has resulted in additional expenses in some cases.

Academic Profile

12. The course was originally authored by the course director (see below) as a product of an IEIS consortium research project conducted in 2015 into contemporary covert capability modelling throughout Europe.
13. Course Director. [Redacted 20190808 for UNCLASSIFIED digital release]
14. Professional Mentor. [Redacted 20190808 for UNCLASSIFIED digital release]
15. Office Hours. On-duty hours are considered to be 0900-1700. Staff can be contacted out of hours by e-mail or approached after lectures, seminars and workshops.

Course Description

16. The course enables officials to perform relocation and protection duties within an intelligence environment consistent with the vocational competencies required by the intelligence profession throughout Europe. The programme combines residential and independent study modes in a single blended learning approach.

UNCLASSIFIED

17. Foundation and advanced protection courses are combined as prescribed by international and regional curriculum, enabling candidates to function as efficient and effective protective intelligence officers.
18. Learning is focused on how to identify persons in need of relocation and protection, develop a protection plan, exfiltrate persons in need of protection from high-risk environments, enforce protective custody, utilise the covert infrastructure to develop cover and legend, brief and train protected persons on tradecraft and security, relocate and provide short-term support to protected persons and plan contingency in case of compromise. The course draws particular focus to regional and international law, ethical standards, health, safety and security.
19. Dress Code. Formal or casual business attire, or combat uniform for military personnel is the usual dress code for protection officers. Dress on the course would be expected to be consistent.

Learning Objectives

20. The course is designed to produce protection officers who can:
21. LO 01: Employ ECIM Concepts. An understanding of the European Criminal Intelligence Model (ECIM) and international cooperation possibilities for protective operations is essential to integrate resources from the international to the local level into a targeted protection plan.
22. LO 02: Understand the Fundamentals of Protection. Protection officers must understand the fundamentals of protective intelligence in a covert operations environment. They must be able to explain the main types of protective operations and understand the role and capabilities of the protected persons function. An understanding of the organisational and operational structures of protective operations and common threat agents is essential.
23. LO 03: Demonstrate Threat Awareness. Covert protection duties require an awareness of threat to life and duty of care obligations to identify persons in need of relocation and protection. Officers must be able to assess the risk to protected persons, explain the legal and ethical issues surrounding protection and deploy appropriate protective measures.
24. LO 04: Utilise Covert Support. Effective protection involves utilising covert infrastructure and methodology to create credible and realistic legends and relocate vulnerable persons throughout Europe via protective custody arrangements. Protected persons under deep cover must be provided with appropriate short-term support and training in personal security, self-defence, restraint and tradecraft. It is also necessary for protection officers to provide covert and intelligence support to rescue/recovery operations and employ physical and technical surveillance countermeasures, protective surveillance and reconnaissance.
25. LO 05: Protection Planning. Protective intelligence operations require an understanding of tactical operation planning, motorised and foot escorts, vehicle and person stop and searches. Officials must therefore be capable of employing defensive tactics in various operational scenarios, planning compromise contingencies and planning exfiltration to extract persons in need of protection from high-risk environments.

Course Structure

26. The course is delivered in three main phases; skill development, consolidation and assessment. Lectures and workshops and independent study aims to develop skills and knowledge, during which a variety of delivery methods are used to engage the participants from different perspectives. This learning is then consolidated and applied with exercise. Finally, the examination assesses individual knowledge retained by candidates.
27. The course is delivered flexibly by employing workshops and exercises as well as traditional lectures alongside e-learning. Communal activities are encouraged to develop team cohesion and networking opportunities with support from the Institute's offices in Vienna. Coaching and mentoring forms an integral part of course delivery with career advice in the security sector available from recognised experts, assistance with course content and sustained aftercare after the course ends.
28. Preparatory Distance-Learning. This element develops the fundamental theory behind protective operations with the exception of sensitive material delivered through virtual events over a separate secure platform. The e-learning element includes lectures on the ECIM, international cooperation, ethics and law, integrated protection planning and protective intelligence operations with a particular emphasis on security and risk in a covert operations environment. Candidates will not be admitted to the residential course without having achieved a passing grade on the preparatory element.
29. The following online events are scheduled for delivery prior to the residential course. Each session is approximately 90mins in duration. These lectures cover protective measures, covert infrastructure and methodology, deep cover and legend, relocation and protective custody, rescue and recovery, surveillance countermeasures, protective surveillance, defensive tactics, personal security and other clandestine tradecraft.
- Induction & Security.
 - Protective Custody, Extraction, Relocation & Resettlement.
 - Legend Building & Deep Cover.
 - Covert Infrastructure & Methodology.
 - Protection Tradecraft & Defensive Operational Tactics.
 - Agent Tradecraft Training.
 - Foot Surveillance.
 - Mobile & Progressive Surveillance.
 - Protective Surveillance & Reconnaissance.
 - Technical Surveillance & TSCM.
 - Patrol, Stop & Search.
 - Intelligence Support to Search & Rescue.
 - Self-Defence (Optional)
30. At the discretion of the directing staff, some or all of these lectures may be delivered during or before the residential component as "break away" training. Such training will always be by hybrid delivery to ensure the same offering to all participants.
31. Ex. SOLO. The final exercise and capability assessment is a FTX beginning in Vienna but with the option to extend across Spain, Gibraltar, Morocco or other countries consistent with the exercise scenario. It begins on the 5th Monday of July or first Monday of August each year and runs for at least 5 consecutive days with the option to extend by a further 7 days with foreign travel. Typical hours are between 0900 - 1700, although participants often work extended hours.
32. Those wishing to attend the extended variant of the exercise must make the appropriate reservation in advance. Delegates from the EUPPC may only participate in the exercise in the role of protection officers. Exercise places are subject to availability and a minimum representation but further details will be provided in sufficient time for candidates to make arrangements for any exercise.

33. On the first day of attendance in Vienna, participants will be enrolled on to the residential component and provided with an introductory briefing, induction and any necessary mission-specific training before delving into surveillance countermeasure training. There is an opportunity for attendees to practice these skills in a dedicated night exercise. On the second day, candidates are assigned roles and begin their planning and preparation for the exercise. Throughout the exercise candidates will be required to protect human sources under threat in an operational environment.
34. On Friday afternoon of the first week, candidates enrolled in the extended exercise will leave for an overseas deployment as their exercise scenario escalates. Meanwhile, the exercise will conclude for others in Vienna with a commanders briefing, a period of reflection, feedback and consultation to consolidate learning.

35. The course adopts approximately a 3:1 theory to practice ratio in favour of theory. However, the Institute utilises immersive scenario-based learning techniques requiring participants to solve realistic problems by leveraging the skills developed throughout the programme.
36. Throughout exercise scenarios, candidates will be expected to act in the role of covert operatives within an intelligence organisation. Efforts have been made to distribute an even allocation of time to all competencies measured within exercises.

² Those travelling overseas for the extended exercise will conduct their debriefing, feedback and consultation on the following Friday. All delegates will be returned to Vienna prior to the exercise closing.

Assessment

37. Periodically, throughout the course, participants will be asked to complete individual and group assignments. Participants will be expected to assess complex situations and problem sets, assess threats based on current intelligence and employ appropriate tactics to address them.
38. All assessments are designed to measure vocational competency according to the ICF for operations - Protection Officer (domain 2). Learning objectives are also tied to the same competency-based model.
39. The ICF is derived from meta-studies the Institute conducts into the intelligence profession at a European and vocational level. The professional standards and guidelines communicated in course content are also derived from the same research.
40. Assessment may be by any valid and accredited competency assessment meeting course requirements. However, competency is most commonly evidenced with a passing grade in the following assessments:
 - A portfolio of practical work delivered remotely via the e-learning platform.
 - Mentor (approved assessor) reviews conducted throughout the residential school, demonstrating the application of theory in practice across the relevant domain of the competency framework.
 - A score of greater than 49% on the relevant section of the MCPE or an equivalently balanced examination of similar content.
41. Professional Practice. The assessment of professional practice by professional mentors is evidence-based and conducted using direct observation throughout the residential programme. The professional mentor is required to log observations evidencing participant competency across the ICF. Mentors are required to actively engage with participants (assigning additional tasks where required) in order to observe competency in instances where it has not been observed passively. Throughout the residential course professional practice is planned by the professional mentor and integrated into the course framework, therefore participants are limited in their freedom to plan their own professional practice.

Awards

42. After passing the required assessments and accruing 14 credits at approximately 140 guided learning hours participants become eligible for the EQF Level 3 Certificate in EU Protective Intelligence.

Dear Sir/Madam,

EX. SOLO, VIENNA

1. As you are aware you will be participating in Ex. SOLO in Vienna. You will be joining a select group of professionals from throughout Europe in a highly demanding capability assessment spanning 5 to 12 days depending upon options selected. As a full training exercise, it will be demanding and will test you both physically and mentally. However, it is important that you attend throughout the exercise, beginning at 0900 hours on Mondays and often extending late into the night.
2. You are required to make your own accommodation and dining arrangements in Vienna. However, the venue is central, located near to many dining facilities. You will only be permitted to make telephone calls home outside of designated lecture and exercise times whilst in Vienna.
3. During overseas deployments, the Institute will arrange accommodation and sustenance for you. However, you should expect to be incommunicado during that period. You will be treated as professionals and as such the highest standards of behaviour will be expected of you in return. Those who fail to comply with security policy, academic or professional codes of conduct risk disqualification.
4. You will require the following equipment for training and exercises:
 - a. Funds for recreation and stand easy.
 - b. Formal but comfortable clothing.
 - c. Outdoor weatherproof clothing and rucksack.
 - d. Pens, pencils and erasers.
5. If there are any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me on the above number.

Yours Sincerely,

[Redacted 20231025 for UNCLASSIFIED digital release

PARTICIPANT INFORMATION GUIDANCE

1. Thank you for registering for Ex. SOLO. Below you will find important information you will need in order to get the most out of your exercise. Ex. SOLO is a capability assessment planned for 5 to 12 days, beginning in Vienna but extending throughout Europe and North Africa.
2. Training Rules. Participants will be expected to adopt “operating cover” whilst on the exercise, meaning that deception and misdirection will be a constant theme throughout the programme. However, unsanctioned deception could be disruptive and therefore grounds for dismissal. As it is often difficult to manage this dichotomy in intelligence training, remember that the following regulations govern all activity during the exercise:
 - a. Real-world actions take priority over cover or simulated actions.
 - b. Participants will comply with all known intelligence and security procedures unless otherwise directed by the directing staff.
 - c. The use of covert tactics must be authorised by a member of the directing staff to be considered legitimate.
 - d. The independent and unsupervised “practice” of covert tactics by candidates is strictly forbidden and grounds for instant dismissal from the programme.
 - e. Participants are expected to act in a professional manner at all times.

Joining Instructions

3. All participants should follow certain guidelines before, during and after the exercise in order to ensure a safe and effective practicing environment.
4. Before the exercise. If you gain any knowledge of the assessment material before the exercise, notify the directing staff so that appropriate actions can be taken. Prior to enrolment candidates may also be required to complete additional paperwork, including signing non-disclosure agreements, hazardous environment waivers and security contracts.
5. During the exercise. All participants should observe the following directions:
 - a. Not all required information will be provided by the directing staff. You will be expected to gather information through existing open and closed sources.
 - b. Do not engage in personal conversations with the support staff, observers or media personnel unless permitted to do so. If you are asked a question, give a short, concise answer. If you are busy and cannot immediately respond, indicate that, but report back with an answer as soon as possible.
 - c. If you do not understand the scope of any task or if you are uncertain about an aspect of your or another’s participation, ask the directing staff.
 - d. Parts of a scenario during exercises and assessments may seem implausible. Recognise that simulations have objectives to satisfy and may require the incorporation of unrealistic aspects. Every effort has been made to balance realism with safety and to create an effective learning environment.
 - e. Participants and directing staff may halt an activity at any point by saying aloud “Stop. Stop. All stop!” It is the responsibility of all concerned to halt any activity if they believe a safety issue exists.
 - f. Unless otherwise stated, it is not required to announce what you are doing while undertaking actions or to maintain a log of activities as you conduct them.
 - g. Be aware of your surroundings and others close to you, there is an inherent risk in security training and you have a duty of care to yourself, your colleagues and the public.
 - h. Unless otherwise stated, follow directing staff directions precisely and without hesitation, they are there for your welfare and safety.

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

6. After the exercise. Destroy any notes or materials generated. If you wish to retain materials for future reference you must ask permission from the directing staff. Under no circumstances is it permissible to reproduce or disseminate materials further.
7. Should you find you have any misplaced belongings, please contact [REDACTED] (h.tds@ieis.eu). The director will attempt to trace lost property as soon as possible. If your item has been found, the Institute will arrange for its return.
8. Simulations. Because simulations are of limited duration and scope, certain details will be artificial. The physical description of what would fully occur at a site or in a surrounding area may be relayed to participants during an exercise or assessment. The directing staff may also simulate the roles and interactions of other organisations or individuals. Unless otherwise directed, participants should respond to all exercise events as if they were real and in accordance with specific guidance provided prior to the simulation.
9. Optional events. There are no other events planned during the programme. However, if this changes, plans will be announced during the course.
10. Requirements. As security requirements are higher for clandestine courses, it is usual for candidates to be asked to identify themselves and present evidence that they meet the criteria for attendance before being permitted to proceed to the residential phase. Candidates who cannot present such evidence may be asked to leave and attend a later iteration when they have the necessary documentation. Therefore, it is strongly advised that candidates bring the following to enrolment if they have not already been asked to present it:
 - Their highest educational qualification.
 - A basic intelligence training certificate.
 - Passport or other identity document.
 - Proof of European citizenship, residency or professional affiliation.
 - Security clearance certificate, advanced background check or equivalent.
 - A full curriculum vitae with supporting character, academic and professional references.
 - If not a native/fluent English speaker, a recent qualification demonstrating an IELTS of 7.5 or equivalent.
11. There are no additional pre-requisites to training beyond that mentioned in this and the accompanying texts. All other supplies will be provided or requested of participants with sufficient notice and at negligible cost. However, candidates who are unsure of what they should bring should clarify their case with the directing staff prior to attendance.
12. Updates. For further updates on exercise material, consult the following documentation:
 - Intelligence Academy, Ex. SOLO Player Handbook (Vienna: IEIS, 2023).
 - IEIS, Candidate Handbook (Vienna: IEIS, 2015).
 - IEIS, Institute for European Intelligence and Security (IEIS), <https://academy.ieis.eu/>.
13. Electronic and physical certification. After the exercise has concluded, verification of attendance will be uploaded to their record, allowing them to sit the final exam. Graduating candidates will be provided with electronic verification of their qualifications and a physical certificate.
14. Registration and Sessions. The course will begin at 0900 in the conference room. If you arrive once registration has closed, please contact the directing staff. Plenary and break-out sessions will take place in communal areas. Candidates will be briefed on field areas prior to use, when not in use field areas are strictly out-of-bounds. Coffee breaks and lunch will be served in the cafeteria or at a venue of the participant's choosing.
15. Contact Numbers. During your exercise, the following telephone numbers may be helpful:

CONFIDENTIAL

CONFIDENTIAL

Directing Staff	████████████████████
Emergency (Police)	133
Emergency (Fire)	122
Emergency (Ambulance)	144
European Emergency Number	112

16. Aftercare. As with all quality products and services, support does not end after the service is delivered. After your course has concluded you can expect continued support in several ways including but not limited to:
- Professional references: Training courses contain a significant element of vocational practice. As such trainers feel confident in professionally recommending trainees to potential employers or other third parties. References are available upon request.
 - Updated certification: As courses evolve and are updated, your training will not become defunct. As a graduate of an approved course your digital and (at your request) your physical certification will be updated over time.
 - On-going support: For a short period after training concludes trainees will receive professional support through career advice and coaching. However, all trainees will remain a part of the IEIS network and receive regular updates and benefits for professional development.
